

HISTORIC HOUSES ASSOCIATION THE ASSOCIATION

The Historic Houses Association 'assists private owners to maintain the United Kingdom's Historic Houses and Gardens... for the benefit of the nation and for future generations'.

Formed in 1973, the HHA represents a group of highly individualistic and diverse properties ranging from palaces and castle to small manor houses.

The Association has in membership over 1,500 such properties, including virtually all the finest historic houses and estates in Britain.

The Association's concerns include not only the buildings themselves but also their contents and surrounding landscapes. Broad advice is available to Members via its quarterly magazine, a Historic House, advisory manuals, a programme of seminars and through a team of specialist consultants.

Key issues in which the HHA is currently engaged include Capital Gains Tax relief, VAT on listed buildings repairs, Inheritance Tax, planning consent for listed buildings, statutory listing of chattels, statutory listing of gardens.

HISTORIC HOUSE

THE HISTORIC HOUSES ASSOCIATION MAGAZINE

HISTORIC HOUSE THE MAGAZINE

Historic House, the quarterly magazine of the Historic Houses Association, is published in February, May, August and November. Approx 28,000 copies of each issue are despatched to all Members (2,300 Full Members and 24,800 Friends households) which equates to over 50,000 individual members.

ADVERTISING IN HISTORIC HOUSE

The magazine provides vital information to historic house owners about the issues that concern them, and is used as a method of communication for Members of the Association and for those offering products and services a means of contact with potential and existing clients.

The Members of the Association collectively represent a large and financially significant market when one takes into account the wide range of services and products they buy for the preservation, upkeep and maintenance of the properties and estates that they manage, together with the leisure facilities that many provide for the entertainment of the public visiting their properties.

Historic House magazine also offers an opportunity to reach a large body of individuals who by becoming 'Friends' have expressed an interest in, and support the aims of the Association as well as enjoying visiting the 300 member properties that are open to the public.

LOOSE INSERTS

Historic House offers an extremely successful loose insert service, providing an opportunity to reach either 'Full' Members or Friends, or both, at a fraction of the cost of a direct mailing. Standard charges apply for inserts up to 15gms in weight. Heavier inserts are accepted subject to a separate quotation which will be based on weight.

HISTORIC HOUSES ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP

THERE ARE FOUR CATEGORIES OF MEMBERSHIP

FULL MEMBERS

Private owners of houses and gardens throughout the United Kingdom, including corporate or institutional bodies. The properties will be architecturally important, sometimes with historic connections and generally listed.

FRIENDS

Individuals or families who do not own historic houses but who have an interest in and enjoy visiting them and their gardens and subscribe to the aims of the Association. They form a body of enlightened support.

NEXT GENERATION MEMBERS

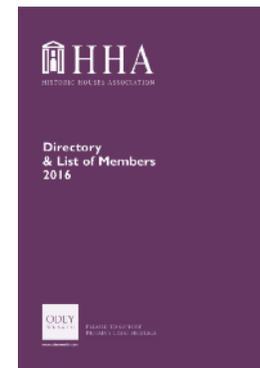

Sons and daughters of owners or individuals in the line to inherit (whether the present owner belongs to the Association or not).

CORPORATE MEMBERSHIP

Professional and commercial companies, heritage bodies, museums and galleries, curators and conservators whose business is involved with historic houses/landscapes.

The practical benefits of Corporate membership include: free admission to over 300 properties by means of four transferable membership cards; invitations to seminars, conferences and the national AGM which are only open to members; free Listing in the HHA Directory & List of Members and a free copy of the Directory; free copy of the Associations Annual Report and quarterly Historic House magazine; discounted special rates on advertisement space in all HHA publications; and priority booking on stand positions at the Historic Buildings, Parks and Gardens Exhibitions and 10% discount off the rate of all sizes of display stands.

THE DIRECTORY AND LIST OF MEMBERS

The Directory, produced annually, consists of over 130 pages of information, including an A-Z of Member properties, a regional breakdown and details of Family, Next Generation and Corporate Members. Also included are details of museums, societies, trusts and associations involved in Heritage and Conservation, making this a very useful publication frequently referred to by Members during the year.

Published in May and distributed to all Full, Family, Next Generation and Corporate Members, the Directory offers an Excellent opportunity for promotion which can be used to maximum effect by taking an advertisement, which will ensure that Members are reminded of the products and services you provide for the next twelve months in a publication which is used as a constant source of reference.
