NEWS

Vivat Victoria!

Two thousand members of the Society were invited to the first event at the exhibition, which was held in the Crystal Palace in 1851. The exhibition was the first of its kind, and it was a great success. It was held in the Crystal Palace, which was built for the Great Exhibition of 1851. THE VICTORIAN SOCIETY was founded in 1958 as the national pressure group fighting to protect Victorian and Edwardian buildings in England and Wales. John Betjeman and Nikolaus Pevsner were among its founder members. The Society is a registered charity supported mainly by subscriptions from its members and by grants from English Heritage and Cadw.

The Society provides a vital role in the fight to save Victorian and Edwardian buildings of special architectural merit from needless destruction or disfigurement. The Society, which is one of only seven National Amenity Societies in the UK, employs architectural advisers to deal with thousands of consultations and case studies each year, and to represent the Society at public enquiries and church courts. It also lobbies for changes in the law regarding conservation of our built heritage.

By law The Victorian Society must be consulted on any proposal to demolish even part of a listed building.

The Society's publications are read by leading conservation professionals and are recognised as valuable sources of information on the period 1837-1914.
